“I can truly say this company is one of a kind. Many companies talk about their culture, but Marrick lives it. It is who they are. This is what makes this company so special. I have never felt more valued, recognized, and part of something amazing, than I have at Marrick. I believe in the vision and values, which allows me the freedom to be the professional I am and continue to strive for.” Marrick employee

“I have never worked for a company that cares so deeply for people both inside and outside the organization until I came to Marrick. The culture of trust is seen and felt every day. This company puts effort into growing its employees by showing continuous support and providing any resource they can. If we need something that is not currently available, they create it. Communication is constant, information is shared freely and learning, growing, networking, and integrity are always encouraged. They challenge us to make decisions on our own but don't leave us flounder wondering if we made the right one. I've never felt more satisfied with my work and my work life balance as I have in the few months that I have been with Marrick.” Marrick employee

“Marrick has been my workplace for quite a while. I have seen this company grow and change in that time. And I can say that it has grown for the best through the years. Their focus on maintaining a work place that promotes healthy relationships both professionally and personally. I know that I am valued as a person not only just a warm body occupying a seat. Marrick wants to ensure we are all growing as people and not only as professionals. Perry and Naul work to get to know their employees on a personal level along with the managing staff. Marrick works to ensure we are utilizing each person's strengths and using those to build that person up and also build the company up.” Marrick employee

“Marrick is by far the best company I have worked for superiors and we are constantly spoken to as equals by anyone in the company. In no way are we treated of lesser value than our superiors and we are constantly spoken to as equals by anyone in the company. Leadership in any role is encouraged and integrity is what matters most to our company. They offer a perfect environment for work life balance and really take pride in the culture they have created. I always rave to my friends and family about how fantastic Marrick is, and it is never a bore or chore to go into work which is a first for me. People can see how happy I am working for this company and what value I take in what we do for the people we help.” Marrick employee

“I have been an employee of Marrick for the past four years, and I honestly say that it has been the best experience I have had during my professional career. Not only do I believe in the work that we do for our patients but that same treatment and compassion is shown from the CEO and President to each and every employee. I love my job and that is because of the culture that Marrick has. My husband has said to me on many occasions how lucky I am that I look forward to coming to work every day.” Marrick employee
